

WHICH ARE CLOSED FOR MARCHERS IN PREPAREDNESS LINE

Republican Nominee Hughes Will Join Procession If in City Wednesday.

ALL UNITS ARE ORGANIZED

Two Thousand Women Will Take Part—St. Patrick's Parish Order Issued.

With the announcement of the probable participation of Charles Evans Hughes in the Flag Day parade, confirmed at the headquarters, the entries for the parade were closed at noon today with a feeling on the part of the committee that the last big entrant made it unanimous. The statement is made that Judge Hughes will march if he is in the city.

The announcement of the formal organization of the parade units set every member of each unit hustling to get ready for the big demonstration Wednesday. The headquarters of each division also were busy preparing their orders of formation.

Melvin C. Hazen, marshal, today issued special orders to which the attention of unit and organization commanders is directed. Announcement was made today that W. W. Woodward will head the march of Woodward & Lothrop employees; that members of the firm of S. Kann Sons & Company will head the line of their employees and that D. J. Kaufman will lead his employees. Employees of the R. P. Andrews Paper Company will march with Joseph Berberich will head the employees of the Robert Berberich's Sons store.

The working out of the headquarters order, which was the biggest job of the entire parade, has made it possible for each unit chief to announce his plans of formation and time of assembly.

The committee on law and order has been called to meet Chief of Police Fullam in the red room of the New Willard this evening at 7:30 and receive instructions as to the work of the committee on the day of the parade.

Other committees governing the various units meet this afternoon and to-night to make their final arrangements. The announcements of these units came pouring into headquarters today and the indications are that the parade will be even larger than the committee in charge originally estimated.

Two Thousand Women. There will be 2,000 women in line representing women's organizations. The total of the fair sex will probably greatly exceed this number, as a number of women will march with units in which men and children will form a part.

One of the large units of women, outside the Girl Scout and Preparedness Camp detachments, will be that representing the Women's Relief Corps of the G. A. R.

Those taking part will be the children of St. Joseph's and St. Vincent's infant asylums, the boys and girls from St. Patrick's School, and representatives from the League of the Good Shepherd and Society.

The men will assemble at 9 o'clock in front of the church and the women and girls in the red room of the New Willard. The parade will start at 10 o'clock and will be led by Mr. Russell and Mr. D. J. Kaufman.

The marshals of the delegations are Mrs. E. G. Miller, marshal of the ladies; Lennie Connolly, marshal of the boys; Oliver J. Le Beau, marshal of the girls. The marshals of the entire representation will be Richard J. Donnelly, Capital Council, No. 26, J. C. U. A. M., together with the seventeen other marshals of the State body, will assemble at the New Willard at 10 o'clock.

Officers of the council will form them in line, and they will march in a body to the assembling place second and B streets northwest. There they will be assigned places in line by the marshals of the division.

The order of parade will be the marshals and aides, the band, clergy, boys, girls, women, and men.

Everybody connected with the parade will wear a green hat or green decorations in honor of St. Patrick. The unit will join the parade at Four-and-a-half street and Pennsylvania avenue.

Members of the Woodmen of the World have been directed to assemble at the corner of First and Indiana avenue northwest at 10 o'clock Wednesday morning. Each member has been directed to provide himself with a small American flag and report to Lieutenant Colonel Wilgner.

The Anacostia Council, Junior Order of United American Mechanics, has appointed a committee to prepare plans for the preparedness parade.

J. D. Simpson is in charge, and his associate committee men are F. M. Harkness, N. J. Thomas, J. E. Frye, and P. A. Smithson. The committee hopes to secure the attendance of a majority of the 200 members of the council in the parade.

Dr. Lewis J. Battle, chairman of the medical aid committee, has announced that sixteen first-aid stations will be established along the line of march to give aid to the paraders and to spectators who are overcome. Two physicians will be in charge of each station. The American Red Cross local branch will provide three ambulances for a

LEADERS OF PARADE ATTENTION!

The points designated for the assembly means the points where organizations or units are to form as such. All bodies must reach the designated points in the official formation in full ranks and at the time appointed. All units or organizations must arrange to form as such at their respective headquarters or at points removed from the points indicated for assembly of organizations. Units will be formed in columns according to time of arrival at division assembly points. All units or organizations must march to their positions from the north of Pennsylvania avenue.

MELVIN C. HAZEN, Marshal.

station at the Peace Monument; one for a station at the Monument Grounds; one for a station at Thirteenth-and-a-half street.

There will be two nurses in attendance with each ambulance. Physicians' automobiles will be provided with distinctive flags that admit them to the line of march, and each physician will have an emergency kit and a first aid package.

The physicians have been asked to meet in front of the War Department on Pennsylvania avenue Wednesday morning at 9 o'clock to receive.

Relief Stations. The relief stations on the Avenue will be as follows:

Station 1—First street, south side of Pennsylvania avenue, Dr. Oliver C. Cox and Dr. Samuel E. Watkins.

Station 2—Second street, north side of Pennsylvania, Dr. M. H. Prosser.

Station 3—Third street, south side of Pennsylvania avenue, Dr. A. W. Valen-

Station 4—Fourth and a half street, north side of Pennsylvania avenue, Dr. Thomas Miller, Jr.

Station 5—Fifth street, south side of Pennsylvania avenue, Dr. H. W. Moffitt.

Station 6—Sixth street, north side of Pennsylvania avenue, Dr. C. W. Bowker, and Dr. O. Wetmore.

Station 7—Seventh street, south side of Pennsylvania avenue, Dr. George Hel-

Station 8—Eighth street, north side of Pennsylvania avenue, Dr. Wade Atkin-

Station 9—Ninth street, south side of Pennsylvania avenue, Dr. A. J. Hall and G. G. Morris.

Station 10—Tenth street, north side of Pennsylvania avenue, Dr. Lewis J. Battle.

Station 11—Eleventh street, south side of Pennsylvania avenue, Dr. F. S. Machen and Paul Johnson.

Station 12—Twelfth street, north side of Pennsylvania avenue, Dr. William J. Thomas and T. C. Cooke.

Station 13—Thirteenth street, south side of Pennsylvania avenue, Dr. M. S. Siasbrock and George C. Clarke.

Station 14—Fourteenth street, north side of Pennsylvania avenue, Dr. A. G. Car-

Station 15—Fifteenth street and New York avenue, Dr. J. L. Lavin Thompson.

Station 16—Sixteenth street, north side of Pennsylvania avenue, Dr. L. M. Hynson and J. F. Hilton.

Buildings Plan Formation For Preparedness Parade

The Builders' and Manufacturers' Exchange will hold a special meeting this evening at 8 o'clock to make arrangements for their participation in the preparedness parade Wednesday.

At least 150 men from the exchange are expected to march and they have arranged special features including a band and a "spirit of '76" float. There also will be a hollow square, in the center of which E. R. S. Embrey, president of the exchange, will ride. Each man forming the sides of the square will carry a letter spelling the words "Builders' Exchange."

Public Order Committee To Meet This Evening

A meeting of the public order committee for the preparedness parade has been called by Major Fullam, chairman of the committee, for 7:30 o'clock this evening at the New Willard.

Plans for patrolling the city during the parade and to warn citizens to leave their homes well guarded will be formulated at the meeting.

Every effort is being taken by the chief of police to guard against an influx of thieves into the city during the parade. Most of the police departments of nearby cities are sending men to aid the local authorities in the prevention of stealing during the parade.

A dozen detectives from New York, Baltimore, Philadelphia, and other nearby cities will be on duty during the demonstration. Plain clothes men will patrol the outlying precincts and suburban districts in automobiles while the parade is in progress, and all residents and apartment house managements will be advised to keep a strict vigil on their premises during the day.

Dr. Montgomery's subject was the "Dilemma of the Peace-footed." His criticism of pacifism and held the ability of the nation to win the war by the use of the individual to prepare his soul against intrusion of alien thought or wicked influence.

Dr. Montgomery pleaded for inculcating the spirit of the peace-footed.

The Preparedness Parade to be held in Washington Wednesday was endorsed as the national expression of the present need of the country in a sermon by the Rev. James Shera Montgomery at Calvary Methodist Episcopal Church last night.

Dr. Montgomery's subject was the "Dilemma of the Peace-footed." His criticism of pacifism and held the ability of the nation to win the war by the use of the individual to prepare his soul against intrusion of alien thought or wicked influence.

Dr. Montgomery pleaded for inculcating the spirit of the peace-footed.

The Preparedness Parade to be held in Washington Wednesday was endorsed as the national expression of the present need of the country in a sermon by the Rev. James Shera Montgomery at Calvary Methodist Episcopal Church last night.

Dr. Montgomery's subject was the "Dilemma of the Peace-footed." His criticism of pacifism and held the ability of the nation to win the war by the use of the individual to prepare his soul against intrusion of alien thought or wicked influence.

Dr. Montgomery pleaded for inculcating the spirit of the peace-footed.

The Preparedness Parade to be held in Washington Wednesday was endorsed as the national expression of the present need of the country in a sermon by the Rev. James Shera Montgomery at Calvary Methodist Episcopal Church last night.

Dr. Montgomery's subject was the "Dilemma of the Peace-footed." His criticism of pacifism and held the ability of the nation to win the war by the use of the individual to prepare his soul against intrusion of alien thought or wicked influence.

Dr. Montgomery pleaded for inculcating the spirit of the peace-footed.

The Preparedness Parade to be held in Washington Wednesday was endorsed as the national expression of the present need of the country in a sermon by the Rev. James Shera Montgomery at Calvary Methodist Episcopal Church last night.

Dr. Montgomery's subject was the "Dilemma of the Peace-footed." His criticism of pacifism and held the ability of the nation to win the war by the use of the individual to prepare his soul against intrusion of alien thought or wicked influence.

Dr. Montgomery pleaded for inculcating the spirit of the peace-footed.

The Preparedness Parade to be held in Washington Wednesday was endorsed as the national expression of the present need of the country in a sermon by the Rev. James Shera Montgomery at Calvary Methodist Episcopal Church last night.

Dr. Montgomery's subject was the "Dilemma of the Peace-footed." His criticism of pacifism and held the ability of the nation to win the war by the use of the individual to prepare his soul against intrusion of alien thought or wicked influence.

Dr. Montgomery pleaded for inculcating the spirit of the peace-footed.

The Preparedness Parade to be held in Washington Wednesday was endorsed as the national expression of the present need of the country in a sermon by the Rev. James Shera Montgomery at Calvary Methodist Episcopal Church last night.

Dr. Montgomery's subject was the "Dilemma of the Peace-footed." His criticism of pacifism and held the ability of the nation to win the war by the use of the individual to prepare his soul against intrusion of alien thought or wicked influence.

Dr. Montgomery pleaded for inculcating the spirit of the peace-footed.

The Preparedness Parade to be held in Washington Wednesday was endorsed as the national expression of the present need of the country in a sermon by the Rev. James Shera Montgomery at Calvary Methodist Episcopal Church last night.

Dr. Montgomery's subject was the "Dilemma of the Peace-footed." His criticism of pacifism and held the ability of the nation to win the war by the use of the individual to prepare his soul against intrusion of alien thought or wicked influence.

Dr. Montgomery pleaded for inculcating the spirit of the peace-footed.

The Preparedness Parade to be held in Washington Wednesday was endorsed as the national expression of the present need of the country in a sermon by the Rev. James Shera Montgomery at Calvary Methodist Episcopal Church last night.

Dr. Montgomery's subject was the "Dilemma of the Peace-footed." His criticism of pacifism and held the ability of the nation to win the war by the use of the individual to prepare his soul against intrusion of alien thought or wicked influence.

Dr. Montgomery pleaded for inculcating the spirit of the peace-footed.

The Preparedness Parade to be held in Washington Wednesday was endorsed as the national expression of the present need of the country in a sermon by the Rev. James Shera Montgomery at Calvary Methodist Episcopal Church last night.

Dr. Montgomery's subject was the "Dilemma of the Peace-footed." His criticism of pacifism and held the ability of the nation to win the war by the use of the individual to prepare his soul against intrusion of alien thought or wicked influence.

Dr. Montgomery pleaded for inculcating the spirit of the peace-footed.

The Preparedness Parade to be held in Washington Wednesday was endorsed as the national expression of the present need of the country in a sermon by the Rev. James Shera Montgomery at Calvary Methodist Episcopal Church last night.

Dr. Montgomery's subject was the "Dilemma of the Peace-footed." His criticism of pacifism and held the ability of the nation to win the war by the use of the individual to prepare his soul against intrusion of alien thought or wicked influence.

Dr. Montgomery pleaded for inculcating the spirit of the peace-footed.

The Preparedness Parade to be held in Washington Wednesday was endorsed as the national expression of the present need of the country in a sermon by the Rev. James Shera Montgomery at Calvary Methodist Episcopal Church last night.

Dr. Montgomery's subject was the "Dilemma of the Peace-footed." His criticism of pacifism and held the ability of the nation to win the war by the use of the individual to prepare his soul against intrusion of alien thought or wicked influence.

Dr. Montgomery pleaded for inculcating the spirit of the peace-footed.

The Preparedness Parade to be held in Washington Wednesday was endorsed as the national expression of the present need of the country in a sermon by the Rev. James Shera Montgomery at Calvary Methodist Episcopal Church last night.

Dr. Montgomery's subject was the "Dilemma of the Peace-footed." His criticism of pacifism and held the ability of the nation to win the war by the use of the individual to prepare his soul against intrusion of alien thought or wicked influence.

Dr. Montgomery pleaded for inculcating the spirit of the peace-footed.

The Preparedness Parade to be held in Washington Wednesday was endorsed as the national expression of the present need of the country in a sermon by the Rev. James Shera Montgomery at Calvary Methodist Episcopal Church last night.

Dr. Montgomery's subject was the "Dilemma of the Peace-footed." His criticism of pacifism and held the ability of the nation to win the war by the use of the individual to prepare his soul against intrusion of alien thought or wicked influence.

Dr. Montgomery pleaded for inculcating the spirit of the peace-footed.

The Preparedness Parade to be held in Washington Wednesday was endorsed as the national expression of the present need of the country in a sermon by the Rev. James Shera Montgomery at Calvary Methodist Episcopal Church last night.

Dr. Montgomery's subject was the "Dilemma of the Peace-footed." His criticism of pacifism and held the ability of the nation to win the war by the use of the individual to prepare his soul against intrusion of alien thought or wicked influence.

Dr. Montgomery pleaded for inculcating the spirit of the peace-footed.

The Preparedness Parade to be held in Washington Wednesday was endorsed as the national expression of the present need of the country in a sermon by the Rev. James Shera Montgomery at Calvary Methodist Episcopal Church last night.

Dr. Montgomery's subject was the "Dilemma of the Peace-footed." His criticism of pacifism and held the ability of the nation to win the war by the use of the individual to prepare his soul against intrusion of alien thought or wicked influence.

Dr. Montgomery pleaded for inculcating the spirit of the peace-footed.

The Preparedness Parade to be held in Washington Wednesday was endorsed as the national expression of the present need of the country in a sermon by the Rev. James Shera Montgomery at Calvary Methodist Episcopal Church last night.

Dr. Montgomery's subject was the "Dilemma of the Peace-footed." His criticism of pacifism and held the ability of the nation to win the war by the use of the individual to prepare his soul against intrusion of alien thought or wicked influence.

Dr. Montgomery pleaded for inculcating the spirit of the peace-footed.

The Preparedness Parade to be held in Washington Wednesday was endorsed as the national expression of the present need of the country in a sermon by the Rev. James Shera Montgomery at Calvary Methodist Episcopal Church last night.

Dr. Montgomery's subject was the "Dilemma of the Peace-footed." His criticism of pacifism and held the ability of the nation to win the war by the use of the individual to prepare his soul against intrusion of alien thought or wicked influence.

Dr. Montgomery pleaded for inculcating the spirit of the peace-footed.

The Preparedness Parade to be held in Washington Wednesday was endorsed as the national expression of the present need of the country in a sermon by the Rev. James Shera Montgomery at Calvary Methodist Episcopal Church last night.

Dr. Montgomery's subject was the "Dilemma of the Peace-footed." His criticism of pacifism and held the ability of the nation to win the war by the use of the individual to prepare his soul against intrusion of alien thought or wicked influence.

Dr. Montgomery pleaded for inculcating the spirit of the peace-footed.

The Preparedness Parade to be held in Washington Wednesday was endorsed as the national expression of the present need of the country in a sermon by the Rev. James Shera Montgomery at Calvary Methodist Episcopal Church last night.

Dr. Montgomery's subject was the "Dilemma of the Peace-footed." His criticism of pacifism and held the ability of the nation to win the war by the use of the individual to prepare his soul against intrusion of alien thought or wicked influence.

Dr. Montgomery pleaded for inculcating the spirit of the peace-footed.

The Preparedness Parade to be held in Washington Wednesday was endorsed as the national expression of the present need of the country in a sermon by the Rev. James Shera Montgomery at Calvary Methodist Episcopal Church last night.

Dr. Montgomery's subject was the "Dilemma of the Peace-footed." His criticism of pacifism and held the ability of the nation to win the war by the use of the individual to prepare his soul against intrusion of alien thought or wicked influence.

Dr. Montgomery pleaded for inculcating the spirit of the peace-footed.

The Preparedness Parade to be held in Washington Wednesday was endorsed as the national expression of the present need of the country in a sermon by the Rev. James Shera Montgomery at Calvary Methodist Episcopal Church last night.

Dr. Montgomery's subject was the "Dilemma of the Peace-footed." His criticism of pacifism and held the ability of the nation to win the war by the use of the individual to prepare his soul against intrusion of alien thought or wicked influence.

Dr. Montgomery pleaded for inculcating the spirit of the peace-footed.

The Preparedness Parade to be held in Washington Wednesday was endorsed as the national expression of the present need of the country in a sermon by the Rev. James Shera Montgomery at Calvary Methodist Episcopal Church last night.

Dr. Montgomery's subject was the "Dilemma of the Peace-footed." His criticism of pacifism and held the ability of the nation to win the war by the use of the individual to prepare his soul against intrusion of alien thought or wicked influence.

Dr. Montgomery pleaded for inculcating the spirit of the peace-footed.

The Preparedness Parade to be held in Washington Wednesday was endorsed as the national expression of the present need of the country in a sermon by the Rev. James Shera Montgomery at Calvary Methodist Episcopal Church last night.

Dr. Montgomery's subject was the "Dilemma of the Peace-footed." His criticism of pacifism and held the ability of the nation to win the war by the use of the individual to prepare his soul against intrusion of alien thought or wicked influence.

Dr. Montgomery pleaded for inculcating the spirit of the peace-footed.

The Preparedness Parade to be held in Washington Wednesday was endorsed as the national expression of the present need of the country in a sermon by the Rev. James Shera Montgomery at Calvary Methodist Episcopal Church last night.

Dr. Montgomery's subject was the "Dilemma of the Peace-footed." His criticism of pacifism and held the ability of the nation to win the war by the use of the individual to prepare his soul against intrusion of alien thought or wicked influence.

Dr. Montgomery pleaded for inculcating the spirit of the peace-footed.

The Preparedness Parade to be held in Washington Wednesday was endorsed as the national expression of the present need of the country in a sermon by the Rev. James Shera Montgomery at Calvary Methodist Episcopal Church last night.

Dr. Montgomery's subject was the "Dilemma of the Peace-footed." His criticism of pacifism and held the ability of the nation to win the war by the use of the individual to prepare his soul against intrusion of alien thought or wicked influence.

Dr. Montgomery pleaded for inculcating the spirit of the peace-footed.

The Preparedness Parade to be held in Washington Wednesday was endorsed as the national expression of the present need of the country in a sermon by the Rev. James Shera Montgomery at Calvary Methodist Episcopal Church last night.

Dr. Montgomery's subject was the "Dilemma of the Peace-footed." His criticism of pacifism and held the ability of the nation to win the war by the use of the individual to prepare his soul against intrusion of alien thought or wicked influence.

Dr. Montgomery pleaded for inculcating the spirit of the peace-footed.

The Preparedness Parade to be held in Washington Wednesday was endorsed as the national expression of the present need of the country in a sermon by the Rev. James Shera Montgomery at Calvary Methodist Episcopal Church last night.

Dr. Montgomery's subject was the "Dilemma of the Peace-footed." His criticism of pacifism and held the ability of the nation to win the war by the use of the individual to prepare his soul against intrusion of alien thought or wicked influence.

Dr. Montgomery pleaded for inculcating the spirit of the peace-footed.

The Preparedness Parade to be held in Washington Wednesday was endorsed as the national expression of the present need of the country in a sermon by the Rev. James Shera Montgomery at Calvary Methodist Episcopal Church last night.

Dr. Montgomery's subject was the "Dilemma of the Peace-footed." His criticism of pacifism and held the ability of the nation to win the war by the use of the individual to prepare his soul against intrusion of alien thought or wicked influence.

Dr. Montgomery pleaded for inculcating the spirit of the peace-footed.

The Preparedness Parade to be held in Washington Wednesday was endorsed as the national expression of the present need of the country in a sermon by the Rev. James Shera Montgomery at Calvary Methodist Episcopal Church last night.

Dr. Montgomery's subject was the "Dilemma of the Peace-footed." His criticism of pacifism and held the ability of the nation to win the war by the use of the individual to prepare his soul against intrusion of alien thought or wicked influence.

Dr. Montgomery pleaded for inculcating the spirit of the peace-footed.

The Preparedness Parade to be held in Washington Wednesday was endorsed as the national expression of the present need of the country in a sermon by the Rev. James Shera Montgomery at Calvary Methodist Episcopal Church last night.

Dr. Montgomery's subject was the "Dilemma of the Peace-footed." His criticism of pacifism and held the ability of the nation to win the war by the use of the individual to prepare his soul against intrusion of alien thought or wicked influence.

Dr. Montgomery pleaded for inculcating the spirit of the peace-footed.

The Preparedness Parade to be held in Washington Wednesday was endorsed as the national expression of the present need of the country in a sermon by the Rev. James Shera Montgomery at Calvary Methodist Episcopal Church last night.

Dr. Montgomery's subject was the "Dilemma of the Peace-footed." His criticism of pacifism and held the ability of the nation to win the war by the use of the individual to prepare his soul against intrusion of alien thought or wicked influence.

Dr. Montgomery pleaded for inculcating the spirit of the peace-footed.

The Preparedness Parade to be held in Washington Wednesday was endorsed as the national expression of the present need of the country in a sermon by the Rev. James Shera Montgomery at Calvary Methodist Episcopal Church last night.

Dr. Montgomery's subject was the "Dilemma of the Peace-footed." His criticism of pacifism and held the ability of the nation to win the war by the use of the individual to prepare his soul against intrusion of alien thought or wicked influence.

Dr. Montgomery pleaded for inculcating the spirit of the peace-footed.

The Preparedness Parade to be held in Washington Wednesday was endorsed as the national expression of the present need of the country in a sermon by the Rev. James Shera Montgomery at Calvary Methodist Episcopal Church last night.

Dr. Montgomery's subject was the "Dilemma of the Peace-footed." His criticism of pacifism and held the ability of the nation to win the war by the use of the individual to prepare his soul against intrusion of alien thought or wicked influence.

Dr. Montgomery pleaded for inculcating the spirit of the peace-footed.

The Preparedness Parade to be held in Washington Wednesday was endorsed as the national expression of the present need of the country in a sermon by the Rev. James Shera Montgomery at Calvary Methodist Episcopal Church last night.

Dr. Montgomery's subject was the "Dilemma of the Peace-footed." His criticism of pacifism and held the ability of the nation to win the war by the use of the individual to prepare his soul against intrusion of alien thought or wicked influence.

Dr. Montgomery pleaded for inculcating the spirit of the peace-footed.

The Preparedness Parade to be held in Washington Wednesday was endorsed as the national expression of the present need of the country in a sermon by the Rev. James Shera Montgomery at Calvary Methodist Episcopal Church last night.

Dr. Montgomery's subject was the "Dilemma of the Peace-footed." His criticism of pacifism and held the ability of the nation to win the war by the use of the individual to prepare his soul against intrusion of alien thought or wicked influence.

Dr. Montgomery pleaded for inculcating the spirit of the peace-footed.

The Preparedness Parade to be held in Washington Wednesday was endorsed as the national expression of the present need of the country in a sermon by the Rev. James Shera Montgomery at Calvary Methodist Episcopal Church last night.

Dr. Montgomery's subject was the "Dilemma of the Peace-footed." His criticism of pacifism and held the ability of the nation to win the war by the use of the individual to prepare his soul against intrusion of alien thought or wicked influence.

Dr. Montgomery pleaded for inculcating the spirit of the peace-footed.

The Preparedness Parade to be held in Washington Wednesday was endorsed as the national expression of the present need of the country in a sermon by the Rev. James Shera Montgomery at Calvary Methodist Episcopal Church last night.

Dr. Montgomery's subject was the "Dilemma of the Peace-footed." His criticism of pacifism and held the ability of the nation to win the war by the use of the individual to prepare his soul against intrusion of alien thought or wicked influence.